INSURANCE BROKERS

Directors and Officers Liability Insurance

Your business may be adequately protected, but are you?

Directors and managers of a company are legally distinct from the company itself, meaning that they can be sued independently of the company, often having to put their personal assets at risk to defend an action.

Here are just a few areas where claims could be made against you:

- Health & Safety at Work Act
- Data Protection Act
- Companies Act (over 200 possible offences)
- Racial and Sexual Discrimination Act
- Insolvency Act (wrongful trading)
- Pension Trustees
- E.E.C. Directives and Regulations
- Consumer Protection

We can provide tailored solutions to the ever-present and increasingly onerous liabilities faced by individual directors and officers in your organisation.

In today's litigious society, we believe that this type of cover is essential.
